

[INSPECTION METHOD AND INSPECTION APPARATUS FOR SEMICONDUCTOR CIRCUIT]

Abstract of Disclosure

A method and apparatus employing image processing of photographic data by a thermographic camera to determine the heat development of individual semiconductor devices. Therefore, defects of individual devices such as disconnection due to breaks and abnormal heat development due to electrostatic breakdowns can be determined reliably.

10063869-052403

Figures

10063869.05409